

A lovely warm welcome to a well equipped house - which benefits from "on site" owners, and therefore feels more like a home than the average holiday cottage. The "welcome pack" of supplies was a very nice touch which established this feel from the start. Everything in the house is clean, in good condition, and well organised (for example, we have been in many cottages and not had such a comprehensive collection of instructions manuals for the DVD player etc!). As a family with boisterous children, we were very pleased that the house was not "fussy"; there were no breakables in sight or reach! And yet the items on display (eg the tide clock) were interesting. We also found the family history fascinating. Among the "thumbs up" from individual family members were: the swimming pool (a great addition!); the chickens running free around the garden; the dressing gowns which were a small luxury! And we all enjoyed the large garden - big enough to have a challenging treasure hunt! All in all, an excellent place to stay - and we even had good weather for the whole week, with the rain confining itself to night-time. :-) Thanks very much from all the family.
